A Rock and a Hard Place

Many times it seems as though there isn't enough money to reach the next payday. It's a very serious subject for a great many individuals in our community. You may be feeling incredible stress while frantically trying month after month, payday after payday, to make ends meet and somehow get ahead financially.

If this describes you, Don't Give Up Hope! The easiest way to relieve the stress of money worries is to create a written plan. Often just the act of writing down your bills and when to pay them is enough to significantly reduce the stress caused by financial troubles.

Testimonial

"I have been a member of Piedmont Credit Union for the past 15 years. My first loan was at the age of 22 when I secured my first apartment out of college. After getting married, my husband and I utilized their services in a variety of ways. We both opened a savings and checking account. Over the years, we have had multiple signature and auto loans as well. Their payroll deduction for loan payments made it so easy to budget monthly, and it was convenient. Whether it was paying off debt, purchasing an automobile, or building a deck, Piedmont Credit Union has been there every step of the way to help us when we needed it most."

Annual Meeting Recap

Donned in brightly colored leis, surrounded by palm trees and calypso music at the Danville Community Market, the members of Piedmont Credit Union celebrated the credit union's 46th anniversary at their Annual Meeting.

Board Chairman Kirby Wright called the meeting to order and summarized the 2014 developments.

Western Sizzlin' served a buffet dinner and Matt Nelson, PCU's founder, called out bingo rounds.

$500.00 Dr. Harold Henry scholarships were presented to deserving students: Jaclyn Faith Williams and Steven Kyle Hylton.

Door prizes: 7 cash awards, a tablet and the grand prize: a Sheetz' gift card and a two-night stay at the Best Western Plus in Wilmington, NC.

Congratulations to ALL our members for making Piedmont Credit Union the organization that it is – we appreciate the opportunity to serve you and are grateful for your loyalty.
